I the undersigned MATTIA ZENI born in TRENTO
on the 20/02/1988 (date of birth), of ITALIAN nationality, aware that according to art. 76 of the D.P.R. n. 445/2000, those who make a false statement are subject to the penalties imposed by the criminal law and conscious that the University could verify the truthfulness of what I have declared and that, in case of false or inaccurate statements, all the benefits coming from this declaration could be revoked,

HEREBY DECLARE

under my responsibility according to the art. 47 D.P.R. 445/2000:

- to be aware that the University of Trento has to provide the legal deposit of the copy of my doctoral thesis in a on-line archive/catalogue providing its preservation and access;
- to be aware of the University procedure, requiring the University of Trento to send my doctoral thesis to the National Library in Rome and in Florence according to the D.M. 224/1999;
- to be aware that, on the basis of the given data, the University of Trento is in charge of the legal deposit procedures of my thesis in .pdf format; that it archives and preserves my doctoral thesis in an institutional archive, to allow the open access to, and the dissemination of, the bibliographic description of my thesis and its .pdf file, except when a temporary embargo is requested (see below);
- to be aware that the University of Trento only uses the data and the information in the Institutional Disclaimer for a correct cataloguing process of the PhD theses and archives them for mere documentary reasons;
- to be also aware that the Institutional Disclaimer is only accessible, for mere consultation reasons, to the administrative staff of the University of Trento involved in the management of PhD theses;
- that there is perfect correspondence between the content of the electronic copy of the thesis now submitted to the Doctorate Office in charge of my own Doctoral Area by this self-archiving procedure, and the one defended during the final examination;
- that the University does not answer for any eventual mistakes, inaccuracies or involuntary omissions in the content of the thesis;
- that the content and outline of my thesis are original and written by myself; furthermore the thesis violates neither third persons' rights nor the laws regulating protection of privacy and personal data;
- that the University does not accept any civil or criminal responsibilities in case of queries or claims by other people;

that my doctoral thesis can be immediately made visible in the Open Access archive called Unitn-eprints-PhD as soon as it has been processed and validated by the repository staff;

(or, as an alternative):

Education and Student Services Management Doctorate Office

that for my doctoral thesis I will propose/I have already proposed the guarantee's procedure for the following reasons (please, select one or more of the following options):

- my PhD thesis was submitted and/or accepted for publication by a publisher who doesn't support Open Access policies before actual publication;
- my PhD thesis has been carried out within projects financed by public or private bodies on the basis of a non-disclosure agreement;
- my PhD thesis is, or could be, protected by the industrial property law and/or the object of an invention patent (for further information, please contact the Research and Technology Transfer Support Division, Patent Service)

- as result, the content of my thesis is to be considered temporarily secret and other people cannot read it on-line until ___/___/___ (please, indicate the embargo expiry date in the day/month/year form, within the 24-month period starting from the date of the achievement of the doctoral degree (date of defence));

It should be remembered that for the duration of all the embargo period the PhD full-text is accessible to the repository staff only.

However, researchers, scholars and general users all over the world can have access to the bibliographic metadata of the thesis which are always visible in the archive after the repository staff validation. They may directly contact the author by clicking the button "Request a copy" on the metadata webpage of the thesis, in order to ask for information or for an exceptional permission to consult the thesis, which the author may grant or not. (The database allows users to send their requests by filling in a form that will be delivered to the "Contact e-mail address" indicated when uploading the metadata).

Guarantee(s) for the embargo request is/are Prof./Dott. _____

(please, indicate name and family name of a Professor or business Tutor)

(Signature of the Professor or business Tutor) _____

- my thesis will be deposited at the National Library in Rome and Florence, in whose rooms it can be immediately consulted by other people on PC without peripheral devices; on the contrary, my thesis will be available on the internet only after the months above indicated, starting from the date of the achievement of my doctoral degree (date of defence).

It should be remembered that, once the PhD thesis is deposited in the archive, it is transferred from the user work area to the submission buffer (visible only to the repository staff), which means that after that moment authors cannot change the metadata any longer.

Should any change in descriptive metadata (not in the thesis content) be necessary, please contact the repository staff at the email address ePrints-PhD@unitn.it.

Should any change about the embargo period be necessary, a new disclaimer should be filled in and handed to the PhD Office Humanities and Cognitive Sciences Area (phd.office-cssh@unitn.it), Science & Technology (phd.office-st@unitn.it).
