RESEARCH PURPOSE

Question research

Which Social justice Education model to migrant students' inclusion?

Which processes can provide quality learning for all pupils living in difficult contexts?

I PHASE

- What are the elements of effectiveness of Cooperative Learning in intercultural education?

II PHASE

- Which process supports effective strategies toward quality learning for all in multicultural contexts?

→

III PHASE

- What is the transfer process in the context of a new school?

CONTEXT

Participants

Multicultural class of primary school:
19 pupils

Heterogeneous and multi-problematic class with different:

- ✓ foreign origin (India, Morocco, Tunisia, Venezuela, Algeria, Colombia)
- ✓ religion
- ✓ levels of learning and disability

The class was crossed by a climate of conflict:

- relational problems between pupils difficult to manage
- conflict between natives and migrants parents

RESULTS
I Phase

1. Taking sides ethically

PRECONDITIONS

- Reality choices in everyday practice
- Pervade all other categories

Nowadays I'd highly criticize the public school ... the school for all, because I do believe that our society is going more and more... towards an exclusive and excluding school! (Teacher13, 2011)

In the last five years I've felt the big responsibility for efficiently managing the class [...] the big challenge to be able to offer concrete opportunities for learning for all. (Teacher4, 2011)

RESULTS II Phase

2. Facilitating the experience with effective strategies

CONDITIONS OF PRACTICABILITY

- 1) the presence of social competences in teachers
- 2) a shared project between colleagues
- 3) the use of active methodologies of teaching
- 4) parental involvement in school

4. Quality learning for all

OUTCOMES

Academic success

All children improved considerably their school performance in every subject.

RESULTS IV Phase

4. Quality learning for all

OUTCOMES

Feeling all well at school

The migrant students take active roles in the life of the class, with a status recognized by peers.

Source: Malusà, 2014, p. 104

The sociograms reveal a cohesive class, with internal dynamics sometimes flaming, but which include all pupils, without distinction of their origin.
